Lo - To write a diary entry

Friday the 8th of May 1945

Dear Diary

Today at 3 PM I listened to Winston Churchill. He said The War was over. We have been waiting to hear that for six years Finally the day came. We have been celebrating all day We were so excited they made bunting out of cloths that didn't fit us any more. They said to go to the city but we were evacuees so we lived in the contry side so it was to far to travel so we had a party with other people who lived in the contry side instead. I can't wait to see my family again. I called them they said they would pick me up tomorrow and I have to pack my bags. This is the best day of my life.
